Dialogue journals offer a written record of the discussions, which help keep the conversations focused and serve as a reference at a later time.

Incorporating guided conversation and discussion into the classroom helps students develop a deeper understanding of the topics and materials being taught.

The use of dialogue journals as a classroom practice was first documented in the early 1980s, with an in-depth study of its use in a sixth grade classroom in Los Angeles. The teacher, Leslee Reed, wrote daily throughout the school year with each of her students in a dialogue journal (a small notebook) to promote personalized, ongoing, supportive communication.
