The core of our model is the entrepreneur's dynamic liquidity and risk management. The entrepreneur rationally reduces business investment, prudently uses debt, lowers consumption, and scales back portfolio investment in the stock market in order to preserve liquid wealth to buffer productivity shocks.

About this Publication. Entrepreneurship is a dynamic process constantly evolving through innovation, in that entrepreneurs devise profitable products and services that did not previously exist. This process requires entrepreneurs to have major skills in different business areas. The second edition of this book is about entrepreneurship in the South African business environment, and about the entrepreneurial process.
